SANTA FE COUNTY

CLIENT

In 2019, Santa Fe County enlisted Yearout Energy to carry out an investment grade audit (IGA) across 14 county buildings to identify and co-develop facility improvement measures that would allow the county to leverage future utility and operational savings through a Guaranteed Energy Savings Performance Contract (GESPC). The project will help improve energy consumption, reduce the county's carbon footprint, save millions of gallons of water and increase the amount of onsite renewable energy on over 348k sqft of county buildings.
